FIBA 3x3 BRANDING GUIDELINES

FIBA 3x3 CORPORATE IMAGE

>> OVERVIEW

FIBA 3x3 is FIBA's business unit dedicated to 3x3 (pronounced “three ex three”); whereas the “x” is always written in lowercase, also when used in a text written in uppercase, e.g. “FIBA 3x3 IS A SPORT DISCIPLINE”

The FIBA 3x3 logo is composed by two “3” figures facing each other, joined by an “X”. The concept represents two teams playing against each other.

At the same time, the image created by the text is also reminiscent of the infinity symbol and it conveys fun, competition and excitement without limits... Basketball without limits.

The style has been inspired by the typography used on traditional basketball jerseys and street sign symbols. It represents the union of urban sport and urban art.

This logo can only be used by FIBA. No third parties are allowed to use it without prior approval.

FIBA 3x3 BRANDING GUIDELINES

FIBA 3x3 CORPORATE IMAGE

>> SYMBOL DESIGN

FIBA 3x3 Corporate logo must be regarded as a respected element. It should never be used as background or a general design feature.

In order to make sure the integrity of the Corporate logo is maintained, the following guidelines must be respected:

Clear space is defined by A = width of "X" letter top arm.

A designated amount of clear space, determined by an AxA box in the applied logo signature, consistently surrounds the whole Corporate logo.

This logo can only be used by FIBA. No third parties are allowed to use it without prior approval.

The minimum recommended width for the FIBA 3x3 Corporate logo is 20mm

>> FIBA3x3_corporate.ai

These guidelines must be used in combination with the Adobe Illustrator artwork templates provided.

>> USE OF TYPEFACES

The FIBA 3x3 primary typeface is the UNITED SANS family that creates a connection between the elements of the sport and the symbol. They acknowledge the traditional basketball jerseys and street sign symbols, expressing the union of urban sport and urban art.

The secondary typeface is the ROBOTO family, when required by readability.

The UNITED Sans and Italic font are not supported by every computer or laptop and will be transformed to a default font when the document is opened! In order to protect the correct font when sending documents electronically, please always use PDF files.

The FIBA 3x3 typeface is the UNITED SANS family. On websites, it is used in headlines.
